*LAST CALL United Way of Broome County is Recruiting Volunteers for Day of Caring 2022

BROOME COUNTY, NY – On September 9 and 10, 2022, United Way of Broome County will host its largest single-day volunteer event, Day of Caring. Individuals and groups, including friends, families, workplaces, and teams, are encouraged to rally together to volunteer to support local health and human service agencies, as well as parks and attractions. With over 40 projects throughout Broome County on both Friday and Saturday, volunteers participating in Day of Caring are sure to make a lasting change in our community.

“Post-pandemic, local agencies, and organizations have been flourishing with programming and providing resources to those most in need. Day of Caring is an impactful event that leverages volunteers across the community each year to support these organizations. Volunteers who give selflessly of their time make it possible for these organizations to continue to provide a positive impact in the community,” shared LoriAnne Welch, Executive Director, United Way of Broome County.

Volunteer registration will take place on the Volunteer H.Q. - a dynamic online platform that supports volunteer engagement. This mobile-friendly and web-based system is easy to use, allowing volunteers to register individuals and teams while tracking volunteer hours. Are you looking to share your time and talents to help local organizations? All volunteers interested in participating in this year’s Day of Caring are encouraged to build a volunteer profile at www.uwbroomevolunteers.com and see the available opportunities, details, and online registration. For more information regarding the Volunteer H.Q., please call 607-240-2000.

About United Way of Broome County

United Way of Broome County unites donors, volunteers and community organizations in a common mission to drive change that will have a positive impact on the critical needs of our community by strategically leveraging the collective resources of community partners. Our focus is on Basic Needs, Health, Education, and Financial Stability. These are the building blocks for a good life and the cornerstones of a strong community. By combining contributions from individuals and organizations, United Way generates a larger pool of dollars and expertise to tackle the issues that matter most, to help those who need it the most, in ways that achieve the greatest impact. Our work is personal enough to change lives and powerful enough to improve conditions across the community we serve. United Way invites people to come together, LIVE UNITED and create the change we want to see.
